NDIS STORY HEADLINE

PACE

The NDIA encourages NDIS providers to attend an information session to learn more about new computer system called PACE, and the new my NDIS provider portal. These new systems will eventually replace the current computer system and myplace portal. NDIA want to make sure NDIS providers are ready to use these new systems.

PACE and the new my NDIS provider portal are designed to be more user-friendly and make it easier for NDIA staff, partners, and providers to do their job, giving them more time to deliver a quality experience to participants. The current provider might need to get extra consent so that they can link with their participation in the PACE portal.

SUPPORT FOUNDATION STORY HEADLINE

Rewarding people with disability

Rewarding people with disabilities can be just as effective as rewarding anyone else for good performance. Here's why:

- Motivation
- Positive Reinforcement
- Focus on Performance

Here are some things to consider to make rewards effective:

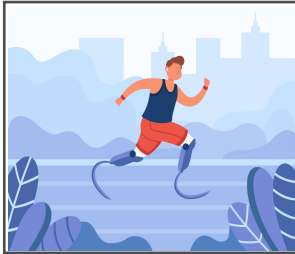

- Individualize the Reward
- Focus on Effort and Achievement

It's important to avoid treating rewards for people with disabilities differently than for anyone else. The key is to focus on the quality of the work and create a system of recognition that benefits everyone.

Here are some resources you might find helpful:

- The National Disability Rights Network: <https://www.ndrn.org/>
- Society for Human Resource Management: <https://www.shrm.org/>
